Bill,

Sorry I took so long to reply. Our computer system was down most of the day today.

Their responses address my concerns satisfactorily. However, without having the revised document in hand, the specified revisions cannot be verified at this time. Once I have received the next version, I will make a final determination.

The eighth report will be fine. Actually, the regulations stipulate that any request to reduce sampling parameters or frequency cannot be made until after 8 quarters of data have been collected and analyzed, so that is right on time.

Let me know if you have any other questions.

Sincerely,

Brian A. Conrath
Illinois EPA

Brian,

It appears Tetrattech has addressed all of our comments. Please review Tetrattech's responses and let me know if you have any comments. However, they don't want to include a recommendation to reduce sampling until the eighth report. Will this be too late?

Bill,

Please find attached the responses to the Navy's and Illinois EPA's comments to the Long-Term Groundwater Monitoring Report for Round 5 for Sites 2 & 3, for you review. If you are okay with them, we will send the response to the Illinois EPA comments to Brian.
